

Swampus Returns

We are so happy you are coming to the Swampus Returns Parade. The parade starts at 7:30pm, so it might be a little dark. When you see this sign you'll know that's the start of the parade.

The main character in this parade is Swampus. Be on the look out for a giant eyeball! This is a swampy version of Krampus and what he would look like if he was in the Louisiana swamps for a long, long time.

Our parade is about reducing plastic, being sustainable, and raising awareness of how plastic impacts our environment and the animals in it.

You may have to wait for us to reach you, but then once we do the parade will last for about 20 minutes. When you see the police, they may have flashing lights, you'll know we're almost to you.

Everyone will be in costume and you will even see a lot of our amazing volunteers in yellow and orange vests walking with us.

Some of the characters may look scary, but don't worry everyone is actually really nice.

We normally make a lot of noise, but we will see signs before we get to you. That way we'll know we should be a little quieter.

We have some people that will let you know when we are close, so you can put some headphones on if you need to. We even have a tent for you if you need to calm down and take a breath.

During the parade you might get a bat that turns into flowers when you plant it. You might get a recycled glass clam shell with a swamp pearl.

Knowing what to expect when you watch the Swampus Returns parade will help you have fun, feel calm, and not get too scared.

You could get a spooky skull that you can plant. You might even get a creepy cicada. Whatever you get it will be unique and really cool.

We hope you have fun and we can't wait to see you again next year.
